

Fensterbau Frontale 2026

2 Minuten Lesezeit

Fensterbau Frontale 2026 – Four days that showed what our heart truly beats for Four intense, inspiring and connecting days are behind us. FENSTERBAU FRONTALE 2026 in Nuremberg was far more than just a trade fair for Soudal – it was a living proof of how we bring our brand promise “We are the heart of the window industry”.

A kick-off full of momentum

Right from day one, the tone was set: With the premiere event of our innovation MF 167 PRO, we demonstrated what Soudal stands for – innovation, technical expertise and genuine dialogue at eye level. Conversations full of passion, commitment and professional exchange shaped the atmosphere throughout the entire week.

The heart of the window industry – experienced at our booth

Our booth 519 in Hall 7 became a vibrant meeting point during all four days of the fair. As a central hub for holistic solutions covering glass processing, profile manufacturing and window installation, we didn't just talk about the “From-Glass-to-Wall” system approach – we made it tangible.

Live demonstrations, in-depth technical discussions and the strong interest in MF 167 PRO as well as our adhesive, sealing and insulation solutions clearly showed: this is where everything fits together – technically and personally.

Strong across borders – teamwork at its best

One of the key success factors of our trade fair presence was the outstanding performance of our international Soudal team. Colleagues from Germany, Belgium, Austria, Italy, France, Türkiye and East Asia worked side by side – highly professional, deeply committed and with impressive presence.

This international collaboration turned our booth into a place where almost every language could be spoken – but above all one shared language was understood: the common passion for system solutions in the window industry.

Four days that truly connected us

Whether during live demos, in personal conversations or in the exchanges after show hours – Fensterbau Frontale 2026 once again highlighted what defines us as the Soudal family: team spirit, expertise and the ambition to move things forward together.

We are proud of everyone who contributed to making this trade fair such a success – on stage and behind the scenes. You have shown that Soudal doesn't just claim to be the heart of the window industry – we live it.

A heartfelt thank you to everyone involved!

